

Meet the Publishers

Name	Picture	Bio	Genres
William Reynolds, BRIO Books	www.brioprint.com	William Reynolds is a graduate of Bethel University in Minneapolis, MN with a B.A. in Philosophy. During the 1990's he owned and operated a home recording studio. As a writer, he has recently written a children's book set to be published by BRIO Press in August of 2009. Reynolds and his partner John Marino founded BRIO in March of 2003. He and his wife Sylvia recently had their first child, a daughter named Audrianna Mae.	Independent Press, accepting all genres
Bob Sanders, Mundania Press, Awe-Struck	 www.mundania.com	Bob Sanders is an experience public speaker with over 15 years of experience speaking to large audiences on motivational topics. When Dan Reitz and Bob Sanders founded Mundania Press the experience related to helping authors and writers take control of their careers and help them realize their dreams. "It really thrills me to be involved with groups that help people such as Writing Conferences. It gives me a chance to really connect with authors and writers and that helps me when I'm making choices with Mundania Press"	Mundania Press - All Genere - Focus on Action / Adventure, Fantasy, Sci-Fi . . . Phaze – Erotica . . . Awe-Struck - Romance (non-erotic). Young Adult (age 12 and up) are accepted (must have science-fiction, fantasy, paranormal, or horror genre themes), Short stories must be at least 5,000 words. Short story collections may be submitted together under a common title (an anthology). Previously published or self-published works are considered for re-publication as long as the work is out of print everywhere and your publishing rights have been explicitly returned. We take both print and electronic rights.

Meet the Publishers

Name	Picture	Bio	Genres
Dan Reitz, Hard Shell Word Factory	 A portrait of Dan Reitz, a middle-aged man with grey hair, glasses, and a goatee, wearing a dark suit, white shirt, and dark tie.	Mundania Press LLC was Co-Founded by Dan Reitz and Bob Sanders in 2002 to publish one book by Piers Anthony. Today Mundania Press LLC has expanded to include Mundania Press, Phaze Books, Awe Struck Publishing, and Hard Shell Word Factory. Hard Shell Word Factory is the second acquisition for Mundania Press in 2009. Hard Shell was one of the earliest electronic publishing companies online and assumed a major role in setting standards for quality electronic books and author friendly contracts.	All non-erotic

Meet the Publishers

Name	Picture	Bio	Genres
Sheila Diana Greene	  Diana Kay Publishing 	Sheila Diana Greene [Diana] has a degree in business management with a minor in literature from Saint Leo College. She has worked for several corporations developing and writing training programs for restaurants. Recently, she decided to make a change and pursue writing full time. She began editing for an online publisher and found she truly enjoyed reading submissions and getting manuscripts ready to be published. Angela Kay Cheney [Kay], her sister, and Diana have been working together and critiquing each other's work for the last ten years. Last summer we found ourselves living in the same household and decided to pursue our publishing dream in the form of Diana Kay Publishing, the magazine. We have since added Sea Crest eBooks, an e-publishing company. We love working with the talented authors of Florida and Georgia and want to help them develop a large readership.	Authors may pitch their short stories to Diana and Kay for the magazine and can leave a printed copy. Authors wishing feedback in writing should also leave a SASE with the print copy of their story. We will consider the submissions with regard to our guidelines for both companies and contact all authors in a timely manner regarding our decisions.
Angela Kay Cheney	Sea Crest eBooks	information coming	Launching in May 2009. Authors may pitch their short stories to Diana and Kay and can leave a printed copy. Authors wishing feedback in writing should also leave a SASE with the print copy of their story. We will consider the submissions with regard to our guidelines for both companies and contact all authors in a timely manner regarding our decisions.

Meet the Publishers

Name	Picture	Bio	Genres
Jacquelyn Smith, A. M. Green Publishing	 www.amgreenpublishing.com	Jacquelyn Smith is the founder and head editor of A.M. Green Publishing, a company that encourages first time writers by looking past common proposal mistakes. Jacquelyn is a member of a "The Write Stuff" writing group, CERT, and the DAR where she is the Rhode Island State Outstanding Junior, an award that honors women under the age of 35. She is also the writer of the "Pitty The City Kitty" series. Jacquelyn lives in Connecticut.	Childrens, Graphic Novels, Fashion, Self-Help, How-To, Nature/Ecology, Business, Political, Small Business
Julie Ann Howell, the Peppertree Press	 www.peppertreepublishing.com	Julie Ann Howell is the Publisher/Founder/President of the Peppertree Press, an Independent book publishing company. Since 2004, she has had many opportunities to speak to schools, writing groups and numerous organizations throughout Florida.	accepting all genres, independent book publisher
Emily Ohanjanian s Harlequin MIRA Books		Emily Ohanjanians joined MIRA Books in 2007, having previously worked in magazine publishing. She is currently looking to acquire commercial literary women's fiction.	Women's Fiction, Romance

Meet the Publishers

Name	Picture	Bio	Genres
Rebecca Melvin, Double Edge Press	 www.doubleedgepress.com	Publisher Rebecca Melvin founded Double Edge Press Christian Publishing in 2005. In addition to one of its author's receiving a Governor appointment for his Series on the War of 1812, Double Edge has launched two Waldenbooks/Amazon Religious Romance bestsellers and a DWAA Maxwell Award winning title for best in non-fiction.	Christian-themed books
Rik Feeney	 www.IsThereABookInsideYou.com	Rik Feeney, author of several books on gymnastics, is also a Book Coach consulting with authors to write, publish, promote books, and develop author web sites. He speaks at writer's groups throughout the Southeast and is currently writing "Book Marketing 101."	co-op publisher, open to all non-fiction titles with strong marketing plans